

Professional Background

Doug McQuillin brings over two decades of specialised expertise in Occupational Therapy with a profound focus on rehabilitation for acute clinical conditions and long-term management. His extensive experience spans working with orthopaedic injuries, including hip and knee replacements and spinal injuries, as well as traumatic brain injuries (TBI) and cerebral palsy (CP) in both adults and children. This diverse clinical background, particularly in managing transitions from hospital to community settings, positions him exceptionally well for detailed forensic evaluations necessary in expert witness consultations.

Over his career, Doug has adeptly managed complex cases involving patients across various life stages, from young children with CP to elderly patients managing the cumulative challenges of ageing and chronic conditions like dementia and Parkinson's disease. His comprehensive approach integrates physical rehabilitation with careful consideration of co-existing mental health issues such as schizophrenia and bipolar disorder, ensuring holistic patient care. Doug's skill in transitioning patients with significant injuries from acute care settings to home-based care, while adhering to stringent service specifications, underscores his capability to handle the intricacies of care coordination required in legal cases.

Doug's leadership extends beyond clinical practice into strategic care coordination, where he has been instrumental in forming discharge pathways that integrate multidisciplinary team inputs from psychiatrists to therapists and social workers. His innovative work includes the development of a Vocational Pathways Programme, which integrates clinical care with practical vocational opportunities, helping patients to reintegrate into the community and workforce successfully. This program not only demonstrates his commitment to patient rehabilitation but also his ability to manage complex logistics and team dynamics effectively.

Doug's ongoing professional development is reflected in his commitment to continuing education and leadership within clinical settings. He regularly updates his skills through CPD sessions and supervisory roles, ensuring his practice remains at the forefront of Occupational Therapy. His recent recognition as a finalist for clinician of the year from a pool of 18,000 staff highlights his dedication and impact in the field.

Doug is fully trained in the Civil Procedure Rules, including relevant revisions as they arise. He actively maintains his continuing professional development via a range of training opportunities.
